NATIONAL MARKER FOR LAFFITE

Advisory Board Member, Jean L. Epperson, reported that the President of the Contraband Days buccaneer group in Lake Charles, LA, Mr. Ben Zaleski, had confirmed that funds would be available for the Jean Laffite national marker to be erected in Lake Charles. Ms. Epperson stated that on Dec. 27 she had submitted an inscription and historical description, which she had researched and prepared herself, to the Division of Historical Preservation, Office of Cultural Development in Baton Rouge, LA. Upon approval and pending completion of the marker, it will be shown during a public ceremony the first weekend in May, 2000, during the annual Contraband Days event.

1820 LAFFITE PAINTING - SEARCH CONTINUES

Advisory Board Member Dr. Reginald Wilson reported that, during a telephone conversation with Mr. William Simpson, antiques and auction dealer of the Simpson Auction Gallery in Houston, the latter stated that he had no knowledge of an 1820 painting of Jean Laffite, executed by an unknown painter in South Carolina on a wooden surface, 20 by 24 inches in dimension.. According to Laffite family correspondence, the painting is thought to have been either loaned or given to a Galveston resident in the 1960s during a visit to the island by John Andrechyne Laffite, alleged great-grandson of Jean Laffite.

SPECIAL EVENTS

R. Dale Olson mentioned possible plans for a special event trip to Baton Rouge, LA, April 28 and 29, during which time, as an invited speaker, he will present a talk to the Louisiana Genealogical Society. Information on local lodging in the St. Francisville area was shown to members present.

OLSON TRIP TO CINCINNATI, ST. LOUIS, MO. & ALTON, ILLINOIS

In lieu of a special presentation, R. Dale Olson spoke on recent travel for library search for biographical information on John Telfer, supposed designer/woodcut artist of the famous artistic rendition of a uniformed Jean Laffite, made popular by E.H. Suydam's colorful drawing in Lyle Saxon's Laffite the Pirate, published in 1930. Two brothers, John and Robert, both artists, were identified and samples of their works were examined by the Olsons, Dale and Diane, who came to the opinion that Robert's style of work, rather than John's, seemed to resemble more closely that of the Laffite picture.

The Olsons also visited the Fosterburg Cemetery outside of Alton, Il., where many believe Jean Laffite may be buried in a now unmarked grave.

MEETING ADJOURNED

1820 PAINTING OF LAFFITE - Search Continuing . . .

According to Dr. Wilson, Mr. William Simpson of The Simpson Antiques and Auction Gallery in Houston, stated that he thought he had seen this particular painting at one time and that he had remembered it as being laid on a poorly prepared canvas that had perhaps been exposed to the elements.

It is to be noted that the 1820 painting of Laffite referred to in correspondence of Audrey Lloyd in previous Minutes was said to have been done on a wooden surface about 20 x 24 inches in dimensions.

Lewis, Jr., author of the popular book, Treasures of Galveston Bay, published by Texan Press initially in 1966, then a 2nd edition in 1977 with five printings. Mr. Lewis spoke on his experiences as a traveler to South America, to the islands of Providencia and Santa Catalina off the coast near Colombia, S.A. which were for generations the stronghold of pirates. According to Mr. Lewis, Pilgrims arrived at Providencia and Santa Catalina in 1620 on The Sea Flower, sister ship of The Mayflower, where four fortifications were built.

Members were also presented with copies of historical information the author had written on the Texas Revolution for independence: 1) a 12-page booklet entitled Texiana: Fort Anahuac: Birthplace of the Texas Revolution and 2) a legal-sized, one page account of the view of Texas colonists at Anahuac 160 years ago of the initial causes of the revolutionary outbreak due to the tyranny and despotic acts on the part of Col. John Davis Bradburn, a Kentuckian, who had joined the Mexican army and was commandant of the Mexican fort at Anahuac at that time in 1832.

CALL TO ORDER

The President called the meeting to order at 6:40 p.m., following serving of refreshments at 6:00 p.m. In lieu of a special presentation for the evening, discussion continued on research in progress, prior to the general business meeting.

NEW GENEALOGICAL INFORMATION ON JOHN A. LAFFLIN/Laffite

Through recent research, Advisory Board Member Jean L. Epperson presented evidence obtained from the Railroad Retirement Board and U.S. Census Records revealing that John A. Lafflin/Laffite, long-alleged, self-proclaimed great-grandson of Jean Laffite, Privateer-Pirate, had been born in Omaha, Nebraska on June 4, 1893, the son of John and Mary Matejka, Bohemian emigrants. According to Ms. Epperson, while working as a lineman for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, John was noted to have used the name of Nafsinger in 1914, which he later stated was his step-father's name. Ms. Epperson further stated that, "For some mysterious and unknown reason, John filed a delayed birth certificate in April, 1947, claiming his name was JOHN ANDRECHYNE LAFFITE, and that his father was Leon Jean Laffite and his mother was Mary Pauline Fontenelle."

In support of Jean Epperson's recent and startling findings which have now cast further doubt on the authenticity of the controversial document, The Journal of Jean Laffite: the Privateer-Pirate's Own story, copies prepared by Ms. Epperson were made available to members of a short biography on John A. Laffite and a tentative chronology of his life, spanning the years 1893 to 1970, from birth to death.

Jean. Epperson also donated to The Laffite Society Archives a copy of a newspaper article from The Baytown Sun, Vol. 78; No. 161, Friday, May 5, 2000, entitled: "Pirate Still a Controversial Figure: Area Researcher Questions the Legitimacy of Pirate's Relatives," by staff writer Jeff Riggs. The article featured a photograph of Ms. Epperson in her library, and one of Director Robert Schaadt of the Sam Houston Library and Research Center at Liberty, Texas, where the controversial Journal and other Jean Laffite memorabilia are currently housed.

LUCIEN FONTENELLE

Advisory Board member, Dr. Reginald Wilson, presented further information on his research on correspondence between writer Audrey Lloyd and John A. Laffite's widow Lacey Seuratt Laffite, and on Fontenelle family history and their association with Jean Laffite's grandson, Leon Jean Laffite. According to Dr. Wilson, from a recent telephone conversation he had had with a descendant of one of Lucien Fontenelle's sons, there is no evidence in their family history of Mary Pauline Fontenelle being married to Leon, Jean Laffite's grandson

* * * * *

MINUTES

Minutes of March 14 and April 11 meetings were approved as read to members by the Secretary.

TREASURER'S REPORT

Treasurer Jeff Modzelewski reported a balance in The Laffite Society account of $2,777.45, less publication costs of the next issue of The Laffite Society Chronicles, now pending.

BOOK EXCERPTS

Copies of excerpts from two books were offered for members' interest:
1) Defense of a Legend by Bill Groneman and 2) Great Forgers and Famous Fakes by Charles Hamilton

E-MAIL INQUIRY

A recently received e-mail inquiry from a woman in Rockville Center, New York, representing a Brandeis Women's University organization, requested information on "Jewish origins of Jean Laffite," referred to in a book on Jewish frontier settlers by Harold Sharfman.

Archivist, Don Marler, reported that he was in the process of contacting a Jewish genealogical group in New Orleans to see if there is historical documentation to validate a claim for Jewish origins, made by Jean Laffite himself, in The Journal . . . , alleged to have been written by Jean.

JEAN LAFFITE NATIONAL MARKER

Advisory Board Member Jean L. Epperson reported that a date for the dedication of the Jean Laffite National Marker in Lake Charles, LA, for which she had done the historical research and preparation, has not yet been decided upon. Discussions are under way between the Contraband Buccaneer group and city leaders as to the most appropriate location for the marker.

INQUIRY FOR SPEAKER

The President stated that The Galveston County Genealogical Society had made a request for a speaker from The Laffite Society to give a genealogical overview on the pirates Pierre and Jean Laffite.

The book, entitled Galveston: Love, Legend and Downright Lies was written by Gini Fendler, popular local history speaker, and former news reporter and writer Max Rizley.

BARATARIA BY LOUIS-JEAN CALVET

The Secretary spoke briefly about a book published in France in 1998 by French author Louis-Jean Calvet. Her comments focused on the final chapter entitled "The Laffite Dossier," in which the author recaps the principal genealogical "trails" of research concerning the origins of the Laffite brothers and their possible fates. The author also offers opinions based on his research regarding the authenticity of the controversial Journal, his conclusion being that the document was probably written by an English-speaking person, who then translated his thoughts into French. He cites several instances of so-called anglicized French, the incorrect use of French words based on what the typical English-speaking person might choose to express himself. He further states that the fact that most of the current researchers working on the document in this country have themselves been English-speaking natives may contribute to the belief that the document was written by a native French-speaking person, such as Laffite

THOMAS BEALE CIPHERS

The Secretary reported she had had no further correspondence since January of this year from Richard B. Smith and The Company, a small West Yorkshire, England research group, regarding their decision as to whether or not to announce their completion of the decipherment of the Thomas Beale codices.

'LOST' 1820s PAINTING OF JEAN LAFFITE

Dr. Reginald Wilson reported he had located information in correspondence of writer, Audrey Lloyd, that John Matejka (aka John A Lafflin/Laffite) had, in fact, himself created the painting of Jean Laffite, formerly attributed to an "unkown painter" in South Carolina in the 1820s.

PATRICK LAFITTE CORRESPONDENCE

A letter arrived from French member Patrick Laffite saying the he will send to The LS a "dossier" concerning Anne Louis de Tousard from French Archives, along with an analysis of the Journal by a "premiere handwriting expert in France."

MARSHALL'S TRANSLATION COMPARED WITH ORIGINAL

Dr. Wilson spoke on his observations of information obtained in Prof. Gene Marshall's recent translation of the Journal that was not in the original document, first published in English in 1958 by Vantage Press. He also briefly mentioned that John Matejka (aka John A. Lafflin/Laffite) was known to have "retraced" letters alleged to have been written by Jean Laffite.

JULES LAFFITE BURIED IN ST. LOUIS?

Dr. Wilson stated that his cousin Paul Gardiner plans to look for burial records in St. Louis of Jules Laffite, grandson of Jean Laffite.

MATEJKA GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH

Dr. Wilson reported he had written to a church in Le Sueur, Minnesota to see if they had records on Mary Matejka, sister of John Matejka (aka John Lafflin/Laffite), who had resided there as a nun. To date he has not received a response. He also stated he had tried to locate on the Internet persons in several states with the surname of Nafsinger who might have been descended from the Nafsinger who was John Matejka's step-father.

LUCIEN FONTENELLE

Continuing his search for information on Lucien Fontenelle, Indian courier mentioned in the Journal, Dr. Wilson brought for members' interest a genealogical list of Lucien Fontanelle, showing no evidence of a Mary Pauline Fontenelle as a descendant, alleged to have been Lucien's great-granddaughter and to have married Jean Laffite's grandson, Leon.

SPECIAL PRESENTATION
GENE MARSHALL

“THE PUBLISHING EXPERIENCE”

Professor Gene Marshall, author of a recent, new translation of the document, The Journal of Jean Laffite; the Privateer-Pirate's Own Story, discussed the rigors of his experience relating to advertising procedures, costs, and publicity connected with the publication of his book entitled, The Memoirs of Jean Laffite: from the Journal of Jean Laffite, published by X-libris, 1999.

Following the special presentation, the General Meeting resumed.

ILLEGITIMATE SON OF JEAN LAFFITE

Archivist Don Marler showed members a photocopy sent to him by a distant relative of a man attired in 19th century dress alleged to be a descendant of an illegitimate son of Laffite. The photocopy will be entered in the archives.

PHOTOS OF NEW ORLEANS

Don Marler also reported he had received for The Laffite Society archives, from a Mr. Warren Stauffer, through an Internet contact, photographs taken in the French Quarter, New Orleans, at the Quadroon Ballroom, several of which were of portraits of young women of the 19th century, famous for their beauty.

NEW MARSHALL TRANSLATION

Several soft-cover copies of Prof. Gene Marshall's new translation of the Journal were made available for sale to members.

THE LAFFITES' BURIAL AT DZIDZANTUN, YUCATAN

Advisory Board member Dr. Reginald Wilson reported on research about the possibility of Pierre and Jean Laffite being buried at the church of Dzidzantun in the Yucatan. Ramiro, a student at the Presbyterian School of Theology in Mérida, was able to verify with the local priest at the church that 1) there were no burials in the church floor; 2) there were no names recorded of burials there before a new floor was placed 3) there are no records there or at Dzilam to indicate that the Laffites were buried there. The student, Ramiro, plans to do more investigation in this area of Yucatan during the summer months of 2000.

ADDENDUM TO CEMETERY ARTICLE IN THE CHRONICLES, Vol. VI, No. 1, 2000

Dr. Reginald Wilson requested that the following statement be entered in the record which might explain Jean Laffite's claim in his Journal that his brother, Pierre, was buried, or would be buried, in the Wesleyan Cemetery in Alton, Illinois: Due to closures of several cemeteries in the St. Louis area in 1847-1848, reburials were necessary. Dr. Wilson speculates that if Pierre Laffite had been interred originally in one of these, Jean Laffite probably could have known of this change well before Pierre's removal and reburial in the Wesleyan Cemetery.

LAFFITE'S DEATH ABOARD SHIP

Advisory Board member Jean L. Epperson stated that she had received an e-mail letter from Betje Klier, French language specialist and researcher of Champ d'Asile history, quoting a statement from The Washington Gazette dated April 23, 1823, that Jean Laffite had been killed in action aboard ship during capture of his 60 man crew by a British sloop in the Gulf of Mexico.

NEW WORK OF FICTION ON JEAN LAFFITE

R. Dale Olson mentioned he had purchased a mystery novel on Laffite, entitled The Laffite Case, by Ray Peters, published by Write Way Pub., 1997.

SLATE OF NEW OFFICERS FOR 2000-2002

A slate of nominees for office was presented by Jeff Modzelewski. President Kathy Modzelewski called for other names from the floor as candidates for office. Gene Marshall was nominated to the Advisory Board by Mike Eubank; motion by R. Dale Olson, seconded by Diane Olson; motion carried.

THE CHRONICLES

Don Marler, current Archivist and nominee for the position of Editor-of-Publications for 2000-2002, spoke briefly about new ideas for the publication, including one for an advertising policy.

R. Dale Olson suggested the idea of incorporating in a future Chronicle article the historical interview with James Campbell, close associate of Jean Laffite, with photographs of Grand Isle and Grande Terre, LA.

FUTURE PROGRAM TOPICS

The President called for suggestions from the floor regarding topics for future programs, as follows: The Slave Trade; Excavated Artifacts; Films on Laffite; the 1865 packet boat Denbigh.

SPECIAL EVENTS

President Kathy Modzelewski asked members to suggest possible sites for upcoming special event travel, as follows: New Orleans; Grand Isle/Grande Terre (a re-visit); Isle Dernier; Trinity River/Champ d'Asile site; Palacios, TX (The Luther Hotel); Sam Houston Regional Library and Research Center, Liberty, TX (a re-visit); Seguin, TX (Oct. 20) for the unveiling of Juan Seguin statue; Jefferson, TX; the Yucatan (Mérida, Dzilam de Bravo, Didzantun, etc.); Cartagena, S.A.; Cuba (archives).

MINUTES

Minutes of June and July, 2000 were not read.

FRENCH HANDWRITING SPECIALIST GIVES OPINION ON THE JOURNAL

The Secretary read a two-and-one-half page letter she had translated, addressed to French Member-at-Large Patrick Lafitte, from French handwriting specialist Gérard Panisett offering a preliminary critique of several pages of The Journal of Jean Lafitte: the Privateer-Patriot's Own Story, as well as his opinion that The Journal is "probably a contemporary forgery." Mrs. Karilanovic also read a list she had prepared of other contents in a packet including this letter sent to The Laffite Society for the archive by Patrick Lafitte, as follows:

- 1) Letter from Gérard Panisett, French handwriting expert, along with two translations of Panisett's letter: one by Patrick Lafitte, and one by Dorothy Karilanovic.
- 2) Handwritten genealogical table of the Lafittes of Biarritz and descendants.
- 3) A 26-page, abridged diary by Pierre Lafitte [sic] written in 1794 (13 xeroxed pp. written in French, presumably in his own hand). Also included, a copy of the diary by Patrick Lafitte, in French and in his own hand: 6 pp.
- 4) Enlarged, xeroxed copies of birth/baptismal acts for Pierre, Louis, and Jean Lafitte of Biarritz: birth dates respectively - 1773, 1779, and 1783.

- 5) Enlarged, xeroxed copy of marriage act of Laurent Lafitte and Marie Daguerre, parents of Pierre, Louis, and Jean Laffite.
- 6) File consisting of early 19th C. correspondence in French and in original handwriting, letters printed in news articles, excerpts from the publication Généalogie et Histoire de la Caraïbe on the history and genealogy of Chevalier Anne Louis Tousard (born 3-12-1749; died 5-8-1817), a representative of the French royal government attached to the French consulate in New Orleans who occupied several consular positions in America and who was the object of vilification for his ties to French royalty. Collection includes an exchange of letters printed in 1814 in a local New Orleans newspaper between Tousard and Gov. William Claiborne, the latter expressing support and sympathy for Tousard.

After review by Gene Marshall, these documents will be entered into The Laffite Society archive at The Eiband Gallery.

VARIANT SPELLING OF SURNAME "YOU"

The Secretary referred to a brief discussion in Louis-Jean Calvet's book Barataria (p. 295) regarding the various spellings of the rather unusual French surname of "You," such as in Dominique You, as follows: Hiou, Hyou, Iou, Hioux, Youx. Author Calvet offers the hypothesis that Dominique You may have been the son of Alexander Hiou and Marie Gharau of Saint-Jean-d'Angély, France, and had a brother by the name of Brice (see p. 296) of Barataria.

STANLEY FAYE, AUTHOR-EDITOR

Advisory Board member and Laffite Society Historian, Jean L. Epperson, mentioned her interest in research into the sources of Stanley Faye's work "Privateers of the Gulf," which, although considered as a work of fiction was not published as such due to the numerous citations included in the work which seem to merit further examination. Ms. Epperson also referred to a paper entitled "Jean Laffite: Secret Treasure," and offered copies of an obituary for Stanley Faye, "widely known writer and former Beacon News historical editor," printed in The Aurora Beacon News, March 7, 1949.

LOUVIÈRE ART

Ms. Epperson brought for members' interest an art book entitled Louvière Fine Arts. Mr. Louvière is a painter and sculptor in the Lake Charles area, whose work which includes numerous landscapes, has been widely exhibited.

MEMBERSHIP FILES

The President announced the transfer of membership files to new Laffite Society Membership Chairman, Don Peak.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Members were reminded to keep their calendars open for the upcoming January 8 annual meeting in New Orleans of The Louisiana Historical Society where the author of a new book on Jean Laffite is scheduled to speak.

SPECIAL PRESENTATION

"THE GREAT STORM OF 1818"

by

ROBERT C. VOGEL

In view of the many events occurring on the island this month in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the devastating hurricane of September 8, 1900 that descended upon Galveston, causing catastrophic destruction and the death of more than 6,000 persons, Laffite researcher-author Robert C. Vogel presented a unique historical perspective of the hurricane of 1818 which also swept over the island, destroying many lives and habitations in the commune that the Laffite brothers had established on the island in 1817. In his discussion, Mr. Vogel was able to show probable cause that, in addition to the mounting pressure of legal and political influences, the overwhelmingly destructive effects of the hurricane of 1818 marked a turning point in the careers of the Laffite brothers, thereby contributing greatly to the disintegration of their commune and to their eventual decision to abandon Galveston Island in May of 1820.

Following the special presentation, the General Meeting resumed.

Vogel).

Various upcoming special events were discussed: 1) Attendance of the annual meeting of The Louisiana Historical Society in New Orleans January 8, at which Laffite author Jack Davis will speak; 2) Seminar entitled "The French in Texas," to be held in Austin, TX the second week in March, at which Ex-Officio Laffite Society President R. Dale Olson has been invited to speak, along with Robert C. Vogel, and Patrick Lafitte of Corneilla del Vercol, France; 3) Trip to Yucatan in January, 2000, in the company of Robert C. However, due to the likelihood that this site would permit only limited visibility of the marker, a second location on the Lake front is under consideration.

BINDER COPY OF LS MINUTES FOR THE ARCHIVE

The Secretary reported that she was having a copy of a complete set of Laffite Society Minutes, dated from the inception of the Society in July, 1994, through July of 2000, placed in a binder in the LS archive at The Eiband Gallery. Ex-officio Laffite Society President R. Dale Olson and Laffite author and researcher Robert C. Vogel are scheduled to speak at the seminar.

ON-GOING RESEARCH DISCUSSION

In lieu of a special presentation for the evening, Advisory Board Member Dr. Reginald Wilson continued his discussion on the genealogy of the John Matejka family, mentioning that John had had a sister, 14 months younger, named Rosemary, who had died at age 28, and who supposedly had been in a convent.

In addition, Dr. Wilson stated that a student with whom he has been in contact was still attempting to trace descendants in the Dzidzantun area near Mérida, Yucatan, of Lucie Allen, the French-speaking Mulatto woman who was known to have accompanied the Laffites to the Yucatan, and to have continued to live there after the alleged death of Pierre Laffite in 1821.

Regarding survivors of the hurricane that ravaged Galveston in 1818, Dr. Wilson raised the question of how to verify the number of persons who may have perished at the Champ d'Asile site during this hurricane, the storm supposedly lasting over three days, from September 13 through the 15th. What evidence exists for establishing the number of deaths which some assume were many?

Dr. Wilson also showed members xeroxed copies of various documents, such as 1) a commission for a Letter of Marque to Juan Salvador de Torres, signed in 1818 by Gen. A. Humbert; 2) the Le Brave list of Articles; 3) copies of death sentence pronouncements for acts of piracy for Robert Johnson (1819) and John Trickhart, both signed by President James Monroe.
